STATEMENT REGARDING RECENT ICE ACTIVITY IN OUR REGION

The City of Falcon Heights extends our deepest condolences to the family, friends and neighbors of Renee Good. We understand that recent events and reports of federal immigration enforcement activity in our region have created fear, anxiety and grief for many residents, particularly within our immigrant communities.

Per our city's long-standing policies and practices, no City of Falcon Heights department, official, employee or agent provides assistance or support for civil immigration enforcement, as such activities are outside the scope of the City's legal authority. Nor does the City share information with, or receive information from, the federal government related to civil immigration enforcement.

Our commitment remains steadfast: to serve every member of the Falcon Heights community with dignity, fairness and respect, regardless of background or immigration status. The City's focus is, and will continue to be, the safety, well-being and trust of our residents, neighbors and visitors.

IMMIGRATION RESOURCES

With recent reports of immigration officials targeting immigrant populations in the Twin Cities, the City of Falcon Heights wants to ensure that residents can connect to the proper resources that they need.

It is important to stay calm during an encounter with immigration officials or law enforcement. If you are stopped by an officer, first ask if they are from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) or Customs and Border Protection (CBP).

Regardless of immigration status, you have the right to speak to a lawyer. You are allowed to have a lawyer with you when being questioned by ICE or CBP.

You can learn more about your rights by visiting the National Immigrant Justice Center website. There are quick cards to "Know Your Rights" in 56 different languages created by the Immigrant Legal Resource Center.

RADON TESTING

January is National Radon Action Month

Radon is a naturally occurring, radioactive gas. It is odorless, tasteless and invisible. According to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), radon is the nation's second leading cause of lung cancer. The Minnesota Department of Health recommends every home be tested for radon.

Radon may enter a home anywhere there is an opening between the home and the soil. These openings include cracks in the foundation, floor drains and sumps. The levels of radon that can build up indoors vary according to the amount of radon in the source material and its rate of entry into the building.

Test for radon: The only way to know the radon level in your home is to test. Testing is easy and inexpensive. Residents can purchase a radon test kit at many retail stores or order one from us. It is accurate and will give you the information you need to determine the level of radon in your home.

Order a short-term radon test from Ramsey County for a reduced price here.

NATURE NEWSFLASH <<<

CHLORIDE POLLUTION

Minnesota's lakes, rivers, and ponds are an important natural resource and a point of pride for the state. These waters are under threat from human activities, including agricultural runoff such as fertilizer and pesticide pollution and urban runoff from roads and other impermeable surfaces. Winter deicers like salt (sodium chloride) and other chemical compounds pollute waterways. When they remain on pavement after they have served their purpose of melting ice, they are at risk of being dissolved by melting snow and rain and carried into the storm drains, where they then enter the ecosystems. Salt is toxic for plants and aquatic animals like fish and amphibians. It negatively impacts soil health and productivity, and can also make your pets sick if they consume salt or water from melted salty puddles. According to MPR News, in 2024, there are 67 water bodies that had excessively high levels of chloride in the water. This includes Gervais Lake in Little Canada and many other water bodies in the Mississippi River Watershed (meaning they drain or flow into the Mississippi). You can find the list of impaired waters here.

What can residents do to reduce chloride pollution while keeping their sidewalks safe?

1. Remove snow promptly! There will be less compacted snow and ice that need to be melted later.
 - There are many exciting shovel technologies available these days. Push shovels, scoop shovels, ergonomic shovels, even wheeled shovels! Even a simple broom works for light and fluffy snow.
 - Ice chisels and ice scrapers are great tools to break up and remove stubborn ice.
 - Consider investing in an electric/battery-powered snowblower! Xcel Energy currently offers a 60% (up to $100) rebate for electric snowblowers.
2. Use the appropriate amount of salt, if you are going to use it. Mississippi Watershed Management Organization offers some tips:
 - You need less than a coffee mug to cover 250 square feet of pavement.
 - There should be at least three inches between grains of salt -- spread them out!
 - If the sidewalk is wet, the sun is already melting the ice so you do not need to add salt
 - Make sure to sweep up excess salt and reuse it or throw it away.
3. Deicers do not work in extreme cold! If it is below 15° Fahrenheit, salt will not melt ice. Other deicers will not work below -10 to -20° Fahrenheit.
 - Use sand or traction grit to reduce slipperiness on cold days. Make sure to sweep it up and reuse it, because sand can also be harmful for rivers and lakes.

Finally, check out this great music video about smart salting by the Hypoxic Punks!

MAKE SURE YOUR HOUSE IS LEAD SAFE

Lead is a toxic metal that is harmful to humans, especially children under 6 and pregnant or breastfeeding adults. The most common source of lead exposure is paint and dust on windows in homes built before 1978. Any amount of lead exposure is dangerous. If you or someone in your household may have been exposed to lead, contact your healthcare provider.

Lead removal grant:
Ramsey County provides grant funding to reduce lead poisoning in children.

How it works:

- An environmental health specialist tests for sources of lead in your home.
- Windows that test positive for lead-based paint are replaced.
- Other lead hazards found in the home are addressed.
- Grant funds cover 80% of the project cost, homeowner is responsible for remaining 20%.
